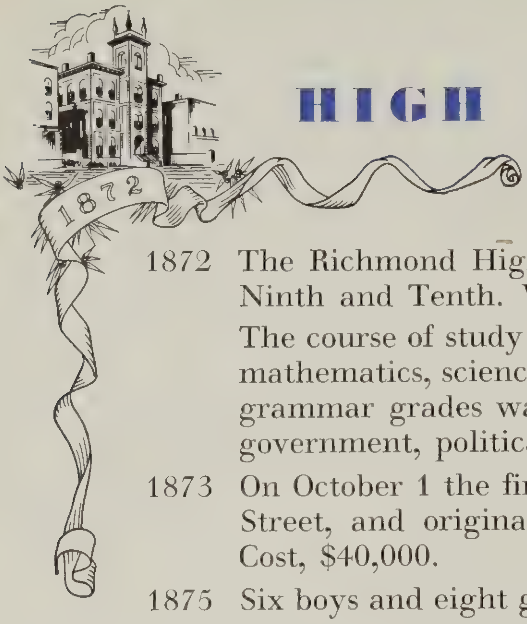
John Marshall High School—1915

Just as students advance through high school to their senior year, so do schools progress through the years. Although it is difficult to imagine John Marshall as looking and functioning differently from the way we know it today, it has not always been the same.

As Seniors, we can now stand at the top of the hill and look back on the improvements and changes that have taken place in the school during our four short years at John Marshall. Thus we can easily see the many alterations that have been made for the betterment of our school in the course of its rich and full lifetime.

The Seniors of the Class of 1954 now have the responsibility of changing and improving a larger community than John Marshall—our country, the United States of America.



HIGH LIGHTS IN THE PROGRESS

1872 The Richmond High School was established in rented rooms on Broad Street between Ninth and Tenth. William F. Fox was principal with two assistants.

The course of study became the same for all pupils. It covered three years and included mathematics, science, Latin, German, history, and English. A review of the work of the grammar grades was required, and some instruction was given in mental science, civil government, political economy, and bookkeeping.

1873 On October 1 the first high school building opened. It was situated at 805 East Marshall Street, and originally had eight rooms and an assembly hall. Capacity, 274 pupils. Cost, $40,000.

1875 Six boys and eight girls became the first graduating class in June of this year.

1881 There was an addition of eight rooms and a basement. Several subsequent additions came later.

1887 A post graduate course was added.

1889 William A. Bowles became principal upon appointment of Mr. Fox as superintendent of schools.

1890 Julian P. Thomas succeeded Mr. Bowles, who resigned.

1891 A two-year business course was begun.

1892 Stenography and typewriting were added to the curriculum.

1893 The first cooking class was begun.

1894 The building again became overcrowded. Rooms were rented outside. Before the new building was completed, the school occupied all available space in the high school building, the John Marshall House, and the old Jefferson Club.

1905 James C. Harwood succeeded Mr. Thomas, who resigned.

1907 The course was extended to four years for all graduates.

1908 Ground was broken for a new building, March 24. The corner-stone was laid September 30.

1909 Before the new building was completed, the school moved into it.

The Record, the school magazine, was first published.

1910 Manual training and domestic science was added to the program of studies.

Manchester High School was absorbed in April. The Alumni Association was organized and elected Stephen T. Beveridge, a member of the graduating class as their president.

1911 In January, the first class to complete a four-year course graduated.

Summer school was started.

1912 Our library was established and a librarian was appointed.

The free text-book system was introduced in September.

1913 The elective course was introduced.

1915 John Marshall absorbed Highland Park and Barton Heights High Schools.

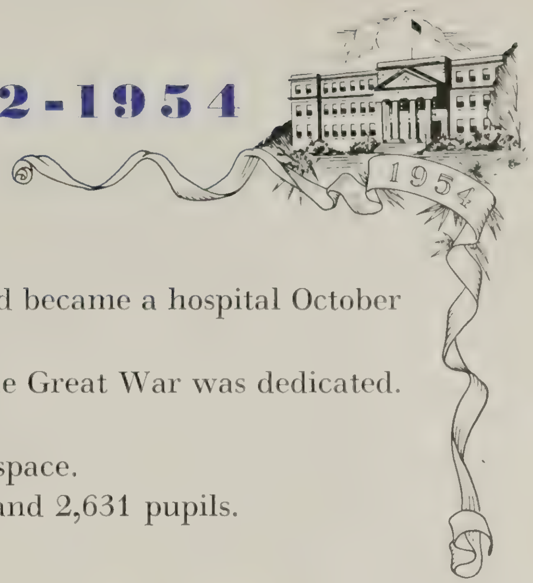
The Corps of Cadets was established by the school board; Captain Edwin P. Conquest was the first commandant.

Junior high schools were established.

1918 Twenty-two male teachers were furloughed for military duty and five hundred alumni of the school were "in the service."

A trade course was introduced.

OF JOHN MARSHALL, 1872-1954



The cafeteria was opened.

An influenza epidemic occurred. School closed October 4 and became a hospital October 7. It was re-opened for school purposes November 7.

1920 A bronze tablet in memory of sixteen alumni who fell in the Great War was dedicated. This was a gift from the Patriotic Society of the school.

1921 A two-session day became necessary because of the lack of space.

After 50 years of operation John Marshall had 96 teachers and 2,631 pupils.

The George Wythe Building was opened.

1924 Company E was added to the Corps of Cadets due to the increased enrollment in the corps.

The first Cadet Honor Court was organized.

1926 "The Blue and White," the first school song, was written by the pupils, and presented to the school. The words were by Aileen Traylor; and the music by Hilton Rufty.

1927 A visiting teacher was added to the faculty. Her work was to interpret the school to the home and the home to the school.

1929 A sight-saving class was added to the curriculum.

The Corps of Cadets marched in the Virginia Division of Herbert Hoover's inaugural parade.

1930 John Marshall returned to a one-session day at the opening of the new Thomas Jefferson High School.

1934 Instrumental music and voice were given full credit.

1935 The Regimental Band marched for the first time in the Winchester Apple Blossom Festival Parade.

1936 The tunnel was opened.

1937 The lunch period was divided into three recesses.

Company F was added to the Corps of Cadets.

1938 The athletic field was dedicated by the City of Richmond for drill and athletic purposes.

1940 Our football team was undefeated and unscored on.

1943 The Girls' Victory Corps was organized during World War II.

The V. M. I. building was first used by John Marshall for vocational purposes.

1946 Dr. Fred B. Dixon succeeded Mr. Harwood, who retired.

1948 The Parent Teacher Student Association was organized.

1950 The Twin-Flagpole Memorial to cadet alumni who gave their lives in the Armed Forces in World War I and II was dedicated before the entire student body.

1951 The 12th grade was added to our high school course.

1953 The first homecoming queen was elected at John Marshall.

1954 The first freshman handbook since 1946 was published.

ROLL CALL

The days of one-room school houses, hickory sticks, and dunce caps have gone forever, with the sands of the hourglass. Tall modern buildings have replaced yesterday's crowded little school rooms. Hickory sticks are no more; demerits are now the penalty for mischievous deeds.

Styles have changed. Skirts and hair have shortened, and the old formality has disappeared. But teachers are still a student's best friend. They are still giving students the foundation for a full and satisfying life—a good education.

The School Board and Administrative Staff

The Richmond School Board includes leaders in a number of fields. With top school administrative officers, they meet once a month and determine policy, set regulations, and interpret existing rules with one purpose in mind: to make the business of educating Richmond's young people a satisfying and rewarding one for students, teachers, and Richmonders in general.

An insurance man, a lawyer, a college professor, a housewife, and a banker are represented in the picture above. Their names are as follows: H. I. Willett, Superintendent; Lucien D. Adams, Assistant Superintendent; Mrs. Kenneth F. Lee, Board Member; Booker T. Bradshaw, Board Member; Thomas C. Boushall, Board Vice-Chairman; Lewis F. Powell, Jr., Board Chairman; John F. Showalter, Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent; Henry M. Eubank, Director of Accounting; Edward C. Peple, Board Member; W. H. Deierhoi, Assistant Superintendent.

When flowers bloom and bluebirds sing, it's time for the celebration of May Day.

At Jayem this year, Sandra Strang reigned over the colorful festivities. The seniors in the court were Pattie Billups, maid of honor, Betty Lee Kenny, Boo Huff, Charlotte Whitlock, Nancy Myers, Pat Tucker, and Dolly Reynolds.

Representing the junior class were Janice Glover, Pat Partin, Joan Cecil, and Carol Pratali.

With Mother Goose Rhymes as its theme, the festivities unfolded, ending with the traditional winding of the May pole.

ORGANIZATION is an essential factor in achievement; and through Jayem's many organizations, the school has won numerous honors.

Through the years, clubs and societies to suit various tastes and abilities have come into existence and then faded from the scene. One such organization is the Mandolin Club, which is shown at the right. This odd-looking group was the forerunner of the orchestra we have at Jayem today.

As the conductor of today stands in position to conduct his orchestra, he views a scene in strong contrast to the Mandolin Club of old. The modern dress and the up-to-date instruments of the John Marshall orchestra make the older musical organization quite an oddity.

The Christian Youth League

"For a fuller, richer life."

The Christian Youth League has ninety members who are given an opportunity to worship, to study, to discuss topics concerning Christian living, and to enjoy Christian fellowship.

The theme this year was "The Bible and Everyday Living." Discussions were led by members of the group and guests, including Mrs. Fred B. Dixon, Mrs. Zada Carver, Mrs. Marion, the Reverend Knight, Father Finnegan, Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck, and Ted Freeman.

The members of the Service Committee have visited the Sheltering Arms Hospital every afternoon after school.

The League continued the Morning Watch, which meets every morning at 8:20 in the Audio-Visual Laboratory. It is open to any Marshallite who wishes to pause for a brief moment of prayer and meditation before school.

At Christmas, the League sponsored a before-school carol sing for the week immediately preceding the holidays.

A wiener roast was held in the fall so the members could become acquainted with each other.

In May, the year's activities were rounded out with the annual Christian Youth Banquet, at which time the new officers were installed.

The Choir, with a membership of sixty, represents John Marshall in school and community programs. This organization sang for the following occasions: Armistice Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas (including the pageant, caroling in the halls, and for city and state officials), Easter, baccalaureate and commencement in January and June, and it gave two performances of H. M. S. Pinafore in April; it also made part of a recorded tape for the Junior Red Cross to be shipped to Europe. In addition, it gave a series of broadcasts over Station WRVA on the "Virginia Sings" program. Soloists and the twelve members of the Marshallsingers, a mixed voice ensemble, are chosen from the Choir; and these singers were heard at many engagements during the school year.

The members of the Girls' Chorus are chosen on a basis of seniority and ability. They participate in the WRVA broadcasts, which are presented weekly. Some members of the group appeared in the dramatic presentation of Mendelssohn's Elijah at the Mosque.

The organization provides an opportunity for talented girls to study voice if they are unable to schedule voice in a regular class period.

The Distributive Education Club is a professional organization open to all students who are majoring in Distributive Education. A D.E. student works on a part-time cooperative retail training program, attending school half day and working in distributive occupations (retail, wholesale or service) a minimum of fifteen hours a week. The in-store work experience is considered a laboratory exercise related to classroom instruction. Display, Retail Math, Human Relations, and Stockkeeping are covered in classroom instruction.

The John Marshall D.E. Club is a member of the Distributive Education Clubs of Virginia, of which there are over forty school memberships. In turn, all the Virginia clubs belong to DECA—The Distributive Education Clubs of America. The club is national in scope.

This year our club attended the Annual Area Conference, which was held in Washington, D. C. There were various competitive contests. These included a speech contest on a phase of selling or merchandising, a sales demonstration judging contest, a job interview judging contest and a display judging contest. The latter three contests were won by John Marshall High School students. They were won respectively by the following: Grady Wolfe, Dorman Hartley and Ray Smith. This made them eligible for State Competition.

The Annual State Convention was held in Richmond in March. Leo Koury represented J.M. as official delegate. However, all club members were allowed to attend the open sessions of the convention and were invited to the banquet at the John Marshall Hotel. Contest entries were prepared for the Merchandise Manual Contest, the poster contest and the display contest. John Marshall won 3rd place in the poster contest. The three judging contests mentioned above were conducted on the State level and two of these were won by John Marshall. Grady Wolfe won the Display Judging Contest and Ray Smith won the Job Interview Judging Contest. Leo Koury was elected Parliamentarian of the State Club. As a result of these winnings and honors the three John Marshall students are eligible to attend the National Convention of the Distributive Education Clubs of America being held in San Antonio, Texas for four days in April.

Perhaps the club is best typified by its diamond-shaped pin and emblem. The four points of the diamond represent vocational competence, economic literacy, social intelligence, and leadership. The wrapped package in the center signifies a job well done.

The Diversified Occupations Training Program at John Marshall is designed primarily to offer select high school students an opportunity to prepare themselves for a specific trade or industrial occupation of their own choice through part-time employment while still in school.

This program may include any industrial pursuit, skilled or semi-skilled trade, craft, or occupation which directly functions in the designing, producing, processing, assembling, maintaining, servicing, or repairing of any manufactured product. It may also include other occupations which are usually considered technical.

The program operates through a cooperative agreement between employers, students, parents, and the school. Only students in the junior or senior years are eligible. A student meeting the requirements for entrance is permitted to select employment in one of several approved occupations. Employers co-operate with the school, serving as the student's training agency. Much care and thought are given by the coordinator and counselor to the satisfactory placement of each student. The student then receives training in the occupation of his choice under actual working conditions, devoting a minimum of three hours a day, five days a week to work on the job. The student devotes three hours a day to school work, receiving one hour of instruction specifically related to his job and two hours of instruction in subjects required for graduation. Credit is granted toward graduation for satisfactory work on the job. In addition, the learner is paid a fair hourly wage by his employer.

Thus the student benefits by getting a practical insight into the world of business and receives valuable training for the occupation of his choice. He will also profit from the opportunity thus provided for attaining desirable attitudes and good work habits.

Through this program the student is enabled to retain his identity with his school group; and, upon graduation, he has earned the necessary credits to enter college if he so desires. He also gains the necessary work experience to enable him to secure full-time employment readily. Records show that a large per cent of the boys and girls completing the program continue as full-time employees with the employers who co-operated in the training.

¿Quiere viajar?—We do too, but not very far.

Yes, we give skits, have movies and native speakers, sing Spanish songs, and add a flavor of Spanish to all our games. Not all of us are experts, but we like to try.

Where else could you find such delectable dishes as frijoles negros, arroz con pollo, and cafe con leche? These we prepare and serve in true Latin style.

Then, just as the birds go north every spring, the Spanish Club, armed with huge lunch boxes, migrates to Washington for its annual tour of the capital and a twilight glimpse of our friends in the zoo.

But, the culmination of them all, language, food, and fiesta—our banquet—where experts speak with authority, amateurs venture a few "muchas gracias" and "que bonitos" and the gourmands are entirely satisfied.

To keep up with the latest world developments is the aim of the Forum Club. This organization tries in an entertaining, yet informative way, through informal discussion groups, student panels, and guest speakers, to enlighten students who are interested in current affairs.

Several well-known guest speakers have addressed the club. Among them were Harvey Hudson, WLEE radio personality, and State Senator G. Edmond Massie. A variety of subjects has also given students pro and con views on the UN, the past gubernatorial elections, atomic defense, world trade, and other issues.

Since 1939, when the Club was first organized to study the troubled world situation of that time, students have gained a clearer understanding of city, state, and world problems. Good citizenship has also been stressed, for today's students are tomorrow's teachers.

Drama Class

Teacher: Miss Mary L. Peple

Through the efforts of Mrs. Charlotte Wheeler DeCourcy and Miss Eva Branch, the class of Drama became a regular part of the speech course in 1938. Room 209 is equipped with a small stage, curtains, lights, a storage room for furniture, and cabinets for small properties and costumes. A book box and file contain the proper number of scripts of nearly 150 plays from which to choose class productions. After a short course in the history of drama, every member of the class is cast for acting. Each member appears in at least four short plays during the term, all rehearsing at once in various parts of the room and on the stage. For the presentation of each play, one day is set aside. Each cast issues a formal invitation to another class, meeting at the same period, to be the audience; and the play is presented, each member of the group being responsible for the committee work necessary to produce a play, such as; costumes, lights, stage, props, make-up, set and bulletin board.

The purposes of this course are: the improvement of speech, and practice in leadership, cooperation, independence, poise, responsibility.

Each student keeps a record of the activities of the course in a notebook with pictures and descriptions of costumes through the ages.

Some of the one-act plays used as class work are: The Valiant, The Dear Departed, Holding a Husband, The Boor, They're None of Them Perfect, Where the Cross is Made, Red Carnations, The Girl, The Devil on Stilts, Episodes from Victoria Regina.

The Future Business Leaders of America is a national organization composed of students who have met the necessary qualifications. Members must have completed one and a half years of a business subject and must be outstanding in that field.

This organization holds that technical skills are not enough. Simply reading about educational, political, social, civic, and labor organizations cannot prepare young people adequately for intelligent participation. The F. B. L. A. teaches its members the ways of operating an organization, the ways of preventing minority controls, and the ways of bringing about desirable social, political, and economic changes through organization.

When the Virginia Business Education Association held its convention in Richmond this year, the F. B. L. A. members were on hand to help out and plan the program for the luncheon.

Contributing to the Christmas Mother fund and preparing a Christmas box for the children's polio ward at Medical College are only a few of the worth while activities that the club engaged in this year.

To promote friendly competition is the purpose of the conventions held in March and June. The F. B. L. A. members traveled to the annual regional convention at Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg on March 6 and to the State Convention at Roanoke on March 26. The club members are to travel to Texas the third week in June to attend the national F. B. L. A. convention.

The purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association is to help each member grow physically, mentally, and socially, in order that she may develop a sense of sportsmanship, health, and school spirit. The organization strives to promote active participation in all phases of the physical education program offered.

The Girls' Athletic Association sponsors after-school activities such as basketball, bowling, archery, swimming, horseback-riding, volley ball, and tennis. Each member is required to participate in at least one of these activities a semester.

Membership is open to all girls attending John Marshall who are willing to meet the requirements of sport participation. Meetings are held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. These meetings consist of a business session followed by some form of entertainment.

The annual program of the Girls' Athletic Association comprises a sports' dance in the fall, a talent show, a float in the J. M.-T. J. football game, May Day ceremonies, and a picnic at the close of the school year.

John Marshall Cadet Alumni Association Inc.

Grand March—
Annual Reunion Dance.

The Cadet Alumni Association was organized eight years ago last March 6 under the leadership and inspiration of our first commandant, General Edwin P. Conquest, and two later commandants, Lieutenant Colonels James C. Anthony and Earl L. Brown.

Former cadets sponsored a city-wide fund campaign in 1946, raising over $15,000 for the procurement of overcoats for the high school cadets of the Richmond Public Schools. As a symbol of their gratitude to former cadets who made the great sacrifice in World Wars I and II, twin flag-poles flying the American and Corps colors were dedicated as a lasting tribute to them on Memorial Day, 1950.

The Board of Directors on two occasions secured invitations for the Corps to participate in presidential inaugural parades. In September, 1952, alumni, realizing how important it is for a cadet to continue his education after high school graduation, established The John Marshall Cadet Memorial Scholarship of $500 for an outstanding cadet graduate to the college of his choice.

Through the association, old friendships are renewed while the work on a yearly project is being accomplished. Cadet alumni count it a pleasure to carry on their ties with the Corps of Cadets, an organization which did so much to develop in them those qualities and attributes essential to good citizenship.

John Marshall Evening School

Going to school is a daytime chore for the John Marshall student of 1954. For many an old-timer—class of '50, say, or '40, or '30, or even '20—it has become a nighttime pleasure. During the past seven years more than 650 Jayem graduates have enrolled in the John Marshall Evening School.

In addition to that, more than 274 Tee-Jay diploma holders have joined their one-time rivals in the further pursuit of learning at the gaily lighted building in the backyard of the home of Chief Justice John Marshall. During these same seven years, 1,729 graduates of other high schools have taken classes by candlelight, so to speak, after a hard day's work—in the very same classrooms in which day students thought they were having such a rough time.

This sort of thing has been going on almost from the first day John Marshall High School opened its doors. In fact, it was only two years after that momentous date (in 1911, to be exact) that Mr. W. C. Locker and two teachers started the John Marshall Night School. Before that first session was over, the enrollment had soared to almost 1,200 students, and a few more teachers, to be sure. Ever since then the Evening School has been a vital, dynamic factor in the adult education program of our city.

In addition to the 2,653 high school graduates who have enrolled in John Marshall Evening School during the past seven years, there have been many group of students who, for one reason or the other, never had the chance to graduate from high school. A number of these, lacking only a few points, have earned sufficient credits by evening study to obtain their diplomas from John Marshall, or Thomas Jefferson, or some other high school.

The student body of our evening school, during these past seven years, has included many college graduates. There have been 509 holders of college degrees, and fifty persons who have done graduate work in various universities. There were 395 others who had completed one, two, or three years of college.

So John Marshall, at night, is not a dull, dark, dismal pile of bricks and mortar. It is a structure pulsing with life, energy, and enthusiasm.

The present principal of the John Marshall Evening School is Mr. Oscar H. Parrish, one of Dr. Dixon's able daytime assistants. His secretary is our own Miss Brooks, (Joyce, to you) John Marshall '50, one of the most loyal, fervent Marshallites in captivity.

Representatives to various conventions told of their experiences. Emily Babb visited Hood College in Maryland; Joan Lambert and Jo Ann Gentry attended the Red Cross National Convention at Washington, D. C.; and Joyce Reams went to Miami and Havana.

All agreed to begin at once on the drive for membership and dues. This resulted in the largest contribution ever made by John Marshall—a total of $449.50.

Bobby Luck and Tommy Greer worked hard to raise money by collecting paper. The Marine Corps Reserve lent a truck and a driver to take the paper to the paper company.

Helen Stephenson enrolled sixteen members to work at the Medical College Hospital. Joan Lambert took girls to McGuire's Hospital every month to work. Other girls and boys reported to Miss Wood to assist in packing boxes for overseas and to fill Christmas stockings for McGuire veterans.

Mr. Troxell made a recording to be sent overseas. Miss Hall is saving pictures to enter in the national and the international exhibit.

Key Club

Sponsored by the Richmond Kiwanis with Mr. James C. Harwood as Faculty Advisor, the Key Club is one of John Marshall's outstanding clubs.

This club, composed of thirty-five members, all boys in the upper third of their class, differs from a number of clubs here at school in that it is a service club.

Continuing with a frequently used project, the club this year has again promoted and presented a vocational survey. Arrangements were made for prominent men and women to speak to the club and school groups on many occupations of interest such as secretarial work, flying, and occupational therapy.

School spirit was bitten by the Key Club bug too. Foremost among the "bites" was decorating the City Stadium for home games. Not only were members performing a needed service, but they were having fun too, if wrestling on the field and teetering on the goal post is any indication. Another school spirit project was the printing and distributing of school cheers to the students. Is it possible that this service helped in keeping up the school spirit while the football team lost all its games?

Trying to entertain is one of the club's projects too, and with Mr. Harwood's help, members succeeded in doing just that on two occasions. First, at a regular meeting of the Richmond Kiwanis, they presented songs sung by the club, a barber shop quartet, a string quartet, and a hula dance by the club sweetheart, which everyone present agreed was the highlight of the program. Second of these was a faculty assembly sponsored by the club in which the coaches and the football team, Miss Peple, and a faculty quartet appeared.

Bonjours, mes amis! Venez ici and hear of some of the activities of the Sans Souci Club during the past year. With songs, games, skits, and movies, nous nous amusons. One of our guest speakers, Monsieur Girard Delteil, an exchange student from "La Belle France," gave us his viewpoints on France and his new life dans l' Amerique. Also, in the air there are plans of an exciting tour to Montreal to be made by the members of the club in June.

With hopes of having as much fun next year, we now say, "Toujours nous nous amusons dans le Club Sans Souci!"

The Literary Society

"Books are our friends"—Motto.

President	NANCY MYERS
Secretary	MARY LOU WALDEN
Treasurer	BETTY SUE BARBEE
Program Chairman	BARBARA WILCOX

The symbol of the Society's love for literature, shown on the club pin, is a small sailing vessel wavering against a towering sky. To us, the members of the John Marshall Literary Society, it means going forward on the sea of adventure and knowledge through discussions of books, authors, and motion pictures.

The Literary Society tries to aid in a better understanding of books and their essential meaning to life. A wider acquaintance with authors, both past and present, helps the members appreciate the great literary works of our world and how they came about.

Since the constitution of the society limits the membership to forty, only students recommended by their English teachers and approved by a membership committee are selected.

The program chairman works diligently with her committee to engage outstanding speakers and plan varied entertainment to please the group. Everyone is given an opportunity to use his talents by participating in the programs. This brings the members closer together both as friends and workers.

It is the plan of the organization to have at least one-half of the programs presented by the student members. Every pupil is invited to take part in a share-your-reading day by discussing "My Favorite."

Besides the annual program and film on parliamentary procedure and a visit to the State Library to see the Archives Department and the room of rare books, the club members have had many interesting meetings this year. The librarian, Miss Dearhart, presented and commented on some of the new books in the library. Miss Ingram discussed The Robe as an introduction to the cinemascope production of the story.

One of our greatest privileges was the visit of Dr. May Keller, former dean of Westhampton College, at the November meeting. Her talk was interesting and informative and attractively illustrated with slides of Greece, Egypt, and Italy. Among other speakers invited to participate in the programs were Miss F. Meredith Dietz, Richmond author and lecturer, and Mrs. Fred Dixon, literary critic.

In co-operation with the School Spirit Commission, the girls worked earnestly to decorate a colorful and humorous float for the John Marshall football game on Thanksgiving Day.

The society believes in fun as well as study, so the Christmas party was devoted to games and contests related to the seasonal holiday.

At the closing meeting in June, favors were given to the graduating members as a small remembrance from the society.

"Memories."

Co-Editors,
JOAN CHEEK AND ROYCE CROWE

Business Manager,
J. W. HANCOCK

This year we, of the Marshallite staff, have endeavored to lend the quality of permanency to the events of the best year of our high school life—the senior year.

The co-editors Royce Crowe and Joan Cheek, together with the rest of the staff, have worked to make this publication superior to any that have gone before.

We have had as our faculty advisor Mrs. Frances Blankenship, a newcomer to John Marshall. Completely new to the school and its functions, she took the job in her stride and has handled it like a veteran.

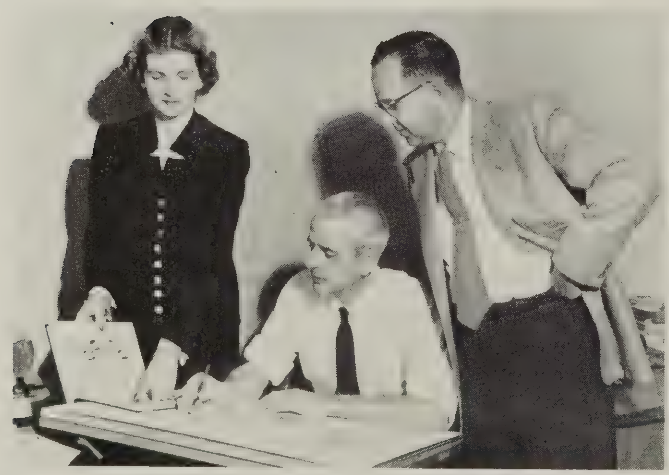
Mr. Arnold experimented with some new money-raising tactics this year. He adopted a plan by which graduates and patrons of the school could support the book by contributing $1. In return, their names were printed on a patron's page or an alumni page.

The biggest help to the Marshallite on the financial front were J. W. Hancock and Joan Cheek, who solicited the greatest amount of advertisements.

Mr. Ford, our commercial artist, is an old-timer with the annual; but our printer, Mr. August Dietz, III, has been with us for only two years. Both have done more than their share in making the Marshallite successful.

At the pre-game parade at the JM-TJ football games, the Marshallite sponsored one of the many gaily decorated floats.

It has been our aim to mirror, through word and picture, all the memorable events of our high school days. We sincerely hope that we have succeeded.



Setting up the layout with Mr. Ford.

The Monocle

Starting the term with an unusually small staff, Monocle Members bestirred themselves to keep all subscribers informed about school news and events around the city and the globe.

The month of March was a very important one for the Monocle, as its twenty-fifth birthday was celebrated by the staff and alumni. Putting out a larger paper made up of material from former issues and new copy from the alumni was only one of the events of the celebration. After a special birthday assembly, staff and alumni enjoyed a party, where food and talk reigned as king and queen.

Playing the good citizen, the Monocle backed such worthy projects as the Junior Red Cross, the Community Chest, Tuberculosis Christmas Seals, and the March of Dimes Polio Campaign.

Later in the term, journalism students who had met the requirements of the publication and were striving to meet those of the Quill and Scroll, augmented the staff.

In 1939 The John Marshall Chapter of The National Honor Society received its charter, and had its beginning under the sponsorship of Dr. C. Patrick Ely. This year in the fall term 32 members were added, making a total membership of 662.

To become a member of The Honor Society a student must have an average of 90 per cent or above. He also must be recommended by the faculty as a student of excellent character, and must fulfill the qualifications of leadership and service.

Since all the members of the society do extra-curricular work of some sort and therefore are quite busy, we decided this year to function purely as an honor organization. At the fall meetings, the programs were contests and games of all types, with very light refreshments.

Later when the new members were added to the group, speakers were secured. Dr. Edward C. Peple, a professor of English at the University of Richmond, spoke to the members. His topic was the importance of continuing your education and using your ability for success. Dr. Lambuth Clarke, of Randolph-Macon College, gave us an interesting picture of college life, and Mrs. T. F. Cocke, of Fredericksburg, spoke on putting first things first.

In the spring term, six members took the National Honor Society scholarship test. Students from all over the United States compete in the hope of winning a scholarship to any college they choose. Richard Walden, Kenneth Burke, Diana Deering, Charlotte Pole, Kay Ownby, and Allen Brown represented John Marshall.

For recreation, the members had a luncheon at school, inviting a former John Marshall Honor Society member to speak. After the weather warmed enough for an outdoor function, a picnic was planned.

Any student who receives an invitation to become a member of the National Honor Society is honored. He should strive to uphold the standards of the society while in school, and make them his standards for life.

The Orchestra

"Holiday for strings."

The Jayem Orchestra, under the direction of Albert L. Stoutamire, has carried out a varied program this year. The orchestra, consisting of thirty members, has a class each day at the sixth period.

In December, twelve of its string players joined other Virginia high school students to participate in the Eleventh Annual State String Orchestra held in Richmond. All who attended gained a great deal through this experience.

This year the orchestra, the chorus, and the band have worked together to produce a monthly radio program, "Virginia Sings." The orchestra has also participated in special assembly programs for Thanksgiving, Christmas, Armistice Day, the Community Chest, and graduation.

The orchestra has a string quartette that played for an art exhibit at the Valentine Museum and for the Key Club at their banquet.

The highlight of the spring term was the orchestral and choral presentation of "H. M. S. Pinafore."

For the purpose of bringing into closer relationship teachers, students, and parents, the Parent-Teacher-Student Association of John Marshall High School was organized.

An understanding of the courses of study, methods of teaching, and the physical surroundings is essential to intelligent cooperation between home and school and to a correct interpretation of the school to the community.

After the first report period a membership meeting was held and the parents were given an opportunity to learn more about the school and the curriculum. Mothers and fathers attended five-minute classes corresponding to the students' schedule. Meanwhile the young folks were having fun dancing in the gymnasium. Later, parents, teachers and students joined together for cakes and cookies. Another such meeting was held on May 10.

The executive board met bi-monthly; the Principal's advisory counsel, four times; and the study group on good mental health habits, four times during the past school year.

"Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free"—Motto.

With initiations in the spring and fall, the John Marshall Chapter of Quill and Scroll has initiated more than thirty seniors into the organization during the year.

Quill and Scroll, the honor society for high school journalists, is the only international organization at John Marshall; and since its beginning in 1930, it has accepted more than 600 Marshallites into its membership.

Interesting programs were enjoyed by the group during the year. Speakers, group discussions, and a music appreciation program held in the spring, broadened the scope of each member's thinking.

Because of their keen interest in journalism, the group visited the offices of the Richmond News Leader and Times-Dispatch one Saturday morning in the spring and watched the efficient staffs publish their papers.

To become a member of Quill and Scroll, a student must rank in the upper third of the class, must have done outstanding work on a school publication, must be recommended by the publication adviser, must be accepted by the chapter sponsor, Mr. Ernest Mooney, and the executive secretary of Quill and Scroll, Mr. Edward Nell.

The Walrus Said and Cadet Notes,
Sander Margolis

Our literary magazine, The Record, is celebrating its forty-fifth anniversary this year. Ever since it was first published in 1909, Marshallites have kept the magazine filled with fine stories. However, this year it marked a definite improvement and renewal of better, more mature writing. The staff wishes to congratulate all the students who have contributed to the magazine and all the students and teachers who have subscribed to it, for without them there would be no magazine.

The Record always has been and still is a source of inspiration to the literary talent found among the students here at Jayem. Short stories, essays, and poems comprise most of the magazine, while the various departments—Exchanges, Each in His Own Tongue, Book Reviews, Cadet Notes, and other features—offer a variety in all subjects.

The contributors and the subscribers have made The Record a magazine that every Marshallite can be justly proud of. Its past record echoes the future, for it has won the All-American Honor Rating of the N. S. P. A. for the years 1943, 1946, 1949, and 1950. The Record is, indeed, a credit to the school and to the students. Financially, also, it cannot complain.

Student Association

The John Marshall Student Association is made up of the entire student body. The students elect the executive committee, which carries out the work of the association.

This year much has been accomplished. The group and the homeroom presidents learned the duties of the city mayor. This was made possible by the School Community Relations Commission. The main project of the School Spirit Commission has been to promote better school spirit at school and at all games. A night pep rally was held before the JM-TJ football game. This was the second night rally the school has had in six years. Another important job was sponsoring the baskets for Thanksgiving. The group also sold pencils and blue and white caps.

Vocational Office Training Class

"Working as we learn."

Vocational Office Training is a part-time cooperative program offered to senior students, who intend to work in an office after graduation. Students partially skilled in subjects such as typing, shorthand, or bookkeeping may work during the terminal semester of their senior year or during both semesters. A minimum of fifteen hours' employment a week in an office is required. In addition to receiving pay for work in an office, a student receives one point a semester for classroom instruction; and one point for work experience, which goes toward credits for graduation.

The businessman cooperates with the coordinator by offering the trainee a variety of experiences in the office. He acquaints the trainee with rules governing employees, and at intervals discusses the trainee's progress with the coordinator. The employer expects the same high standard of work from the student that is required of other beginning employees.

Vocational Office Training offers the student an opportunity to try out in a real job situation. It enables him to gain valuable experience and to earn while he learns. It assures the graduate of immediate full-time employment upon graduation. Another important feature is that it helps to develop a feeling of confidence in one's own ability.

All students enrolled in Vocational Office Training are eligible to become members of the John Marshall Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America.

The program includes office conduct, such as work habits, grooming and dress for the office, and responsibility to the employer. Included also are office procedures such as handling the mail, answering the telephone, and receiving callers. In class students are taught the use of office machines, which include the dictaphone, sound-scriber, duplicating machines, adding-listing machines, comptometers, rotary calculators, bookkeeping machines and electric typewriters.

Vocational Office Training is a program designed for young people who will be the business leaders of the future.

The Y-Teens are members of clubs sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. for junior and senior high school girls. Each club plans its own programs and elects its own officers. The club works with the Y. W. C. A. and adopts the ideals and goals as laid down by the mother organization.

"Since the strength of a nation lies in the character of its youth, youth must learn to face life without confusion, to care what happens to people everywhere, to make sound plans and carry them out, to take responsibility, to face personal problems intelligently and with fortitude, to appreciate the values of good health, education and good citizenship in a free society, to be worthy of living in a free society and to get along with others."

The Y-Teens have many interesting programs, such as dances, parties, and discussions of present-day problems, clothes, charm, personality, boy and girl relations, and religion. Also different projects for the community are undertaken.

This year John Marshall Y-Teens led all other surrounding schools in making cookies for the World Fellowship Festival.

The Christmas project was to adopt a child and to try, by means of a few gifts which he might not receive but for the efforts of the Y-Teens, to make his Christmas a little brighter.

There are many interesting activities in our club and we strive to build better citizens of tomorrow by being good Christian workers today.

"DUTY, HONOR, COUNTRY." The principles of the John Marshall Corps of Cadets will always remain the same. The fine ideals and rules of conduct that the corps advocates are a credit to the members of the corps of cadets and to the rest of the school.

During its long and successful life, the John Marshall Corps of Cadets has received many honors. The John Marshall corps was the only high school military group that was asked to take part in the Victory Parade in 1919 after World War I. A picture of this memorable event is shown at the right.

When we go to a parade in which our cadets take part, the spirit and enthusiasm in the air is the same as it was when our parents and grandparents came to John Marshall.

The Honor System of the John Marshall Corps of Cadets is designed to instill in the individual cadet a true sense of the Corps' motto, "Duty, Honor, Country," and to extend each cadet's desire to develop within himself those attributes accompanying a high degree of honor such as self-respect, pride, and the general consideration for rights and welfare of others—vital factors in the forming of real character.

In order to achieve the system's goal, each cadet must resolve to implant these standards within himself, but should he fail to do so and encroach upon or appear to violate his honor, the Honor Court is the judiciary factor which meets when the seriousness of a cadet's offense requires it, and administers punishment, if justified, accordingly. The Court is composed of all commanders, the adjutant, and such others as the Court sees fit to elect by unanimous decision, the total membership not exceeding thirteen.

In any case not covered by the Rules or Standards, in which the honor or character of a cadet, or the honor or well being of the Corps as a whole is in any way involved, the Honor Court considers the act as one reflecting on the code of a gentleman and renders its decision accordingly.

The General Committee

Although the Honor Court's principal purpose is to try cases of honor violations, it also works in conjunction with the General Committee in maintaining the Honor System. The body is composed of all commanders and the individual class officers. The General Committee does not try honor cases at hand, but instead, starts at the very core to prevent any future honor violations by maintaining the proper instruction of each recruit class, and additional instruction of all classes, as may be necessary.

If there is any disagreement as to points of the standards of the Corps not clearly defined, the General Committee is the deciding factor in the case. Cadets failing to uphold these standards, regarding conduct and appearance, are called to account by the group, since it is their duty to see that they are enforced. The reputation which the Corps enjoys as gentlemen is the result of this system.

The members of the General Committee must also accomplish their purpose by personal example, having to display the proper qualifications before receiving membership. It is also the duty of each member of the corps to report all violations of the standards, foregoing all company allegiance wherever it would conflict with the purpose of the General Committee. Lesser duties of the committee are the enforcement of class privileges and new cadet restrictions.

The Hop Committee

Saber Arch-Christmas Ball

The Hop Committee is a voluntary group composed of cadets from all companies and all drills. Each job that goes to making the Hop a success is taken care of by a separate committee. Each of these is supervised by a chairman.

The first big problem is the debatable question of the colors of the decorations and a plan for the arrangement of them. These are decided by the vote of the corps. Next the various committees plan and carry out each phase of their assigned duties.

When all the tasks have been completed, the haphazard, hectic turmoil turns into an orderly, beautiful picture. The cadets who worked so hard and put so much time in preparing for this big event receive no reward other than the satisfaction in the feeling that they have done their part in making the ball a notable success.

OHN MARSHAL
H.S.
CADET

THE appearances of the boys and girls who participate in school sports have changed greatly. New styles of uniforms have been adopted. Even the rules of the contests have been amended through the years to meet changing needs. There is one thing, however, that has achieved immortality; and that is the proper spirit in which a game should be played.

The principles of good sportsmanship, which teach us how to be a loser as well as a winner in athletic contests, can be, and should be, carried into our social living. Thus, if we remember what we have learned about sportsmanship on the field, diamond, and court, we shall always know how to play the game of life according to the rules.

WARWICK

This one was a heartbreaker at City Stadium. On the last play of the game, Warwick fell on their own fumble in our end zone and won 14-7. It was the first time the Farmers had ever defeated the Justices in the four years they have played.

GRANBY

Jayem dropped this one to the Comets at Norfolk by a 14-0 score but suffered a greater loss than the game when half-back Billy Garnett broke four vertebrae in his back during the first quarter and was out of play for the rest of the season.

HIGHLAND SPRINGS

Sterling, playing by the Jayem line, led by co-captain Jerry Baber, held this one to a 0-0 game at City Stadium until the last minute, when the Springers scored the six points which meant victory for Highland Springs.

HERMITAGE

This one was a real thriller as the two teams battled back and forth across the field at City Stadium in an extremely evenly matched game. In the fourth quarter with the score 7-6, in favor of Hermitage, the Justices pushed to the Panthers' six, but the drive was halted by a penalty, and no score ensued. The blue and white supporters were proud of their "Fighting Justices" despite the fact that the game ended Hermitage 7, John Marshall 6.

HAMPTON

The boys from the Peninsula, with one of their greatest teams in history, crushed the Justices at the Crabber Stadium to the tune of 61-0. John Marshall played without co-captain Ray Conklin, who was sidelined because of a hand injury suffered in the Springer contest. Jayem fans admired Coach Bill Goodlow for the way he handled the defeat. Instead of severe reprimands for his boys, he simply told them to forget it.

HOPEWELL

Again the Justices were held scoreless as the Blue Devils went home the victor by 33 points.

ALEXANDRIA

Because of a severe storm, this game was postponed. As neither team figured in the state championship, the game was never played.

PETERSBURG

For the first time during the 1953 football season, the Justices scored the first touchdown of the game and led the Crimson Wave for a short while. However, the team from Petersburg came to life and scored three touchdowns to defeat the blue and white 19-6.

THOMAS JEFFERSON

A three-touchdown underdog, the John Marshall team proved to everyone viewing the Turkey Day classic that they deserved the name of "Fighting Justices." Led by Ralph Butler and Don Goode, the entire team played as they never had before and kept the game a scoreless tie, until Teejay managd to score a touchdown in the last quarter. Unable to make the kick, the Jeffs had to be satisfied with a six-point victory over a great Justice team. It made all Marshallites proud to see the spirit and fight of their boys.

State Champions

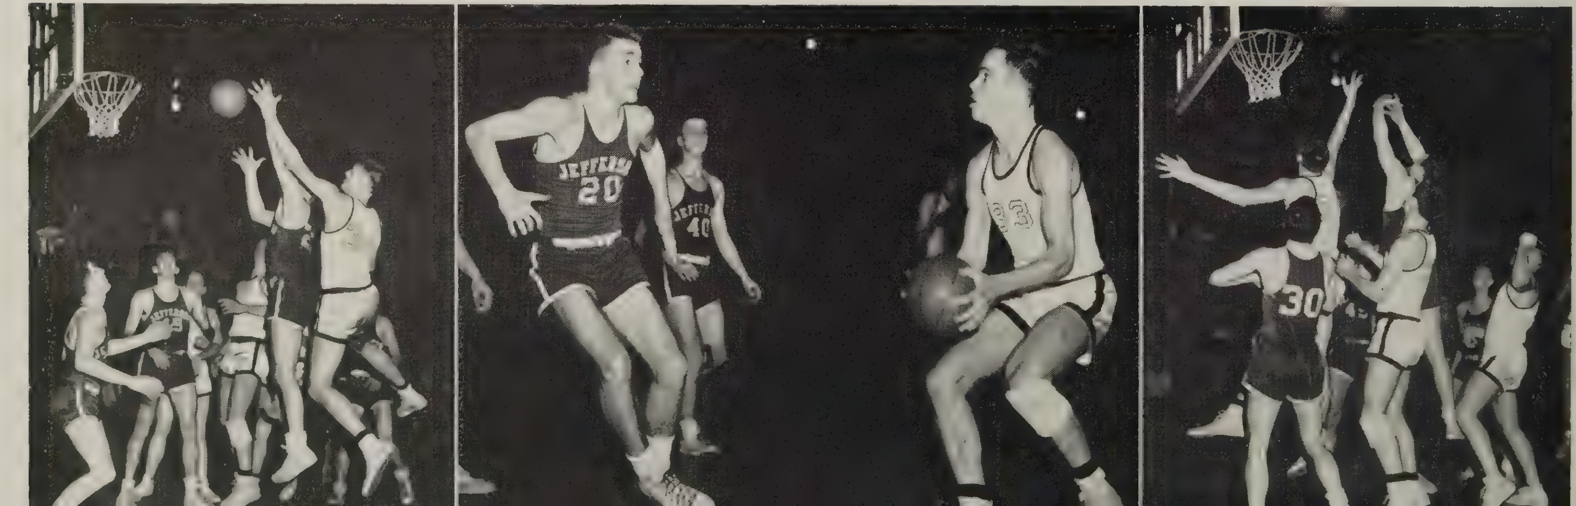
Highlights of J. M.-T. J. game, March 5, 1954



Co-captains—Larry Rauppius and Buck Jones

Rated at the beginning of the year as a mediocre team that might win half its games, the Justice hoopsters ignored all pre-season predictions and went on to capture a record of 21 wins, 3 defeats, and the state championship.

Thomas Jefferson's fine team gave the Justices a run for their money for the Central District championship right to the end. The championship was important to both teams, as the winner would be sent to Arlington for the state tournament. The Justices and Jeffs broke even in their two scheduled games, thereby requiring a play-off game to determine the Central District victor. The Justices copped the game by a 63-57 score. This meant on to the tournament for the blue and white, and the boys took advantage of the opportunity to win the state crown with successive victories over George Washington of Alexandria, Hampton, and E. C. Glass.

Fine spirit was displayed by Justice and Jeff rooters alike, as the team received telegrams from nearly every homeroom in John Marshall, the cheerleaders, various clubs and organizations, and many individuals. Tee Jay forgot the ancient rivalry between the two schools and sent our boys many cheering messages also. All in all the team received 94 telegrams from well-wishers, and they responded by bringing the championship back to Richmond.

BASE BALL

The Jayem boys can be seen practicing almost any afternoon at Shockoe Bottom or Hotchkiss Field. We are quite proud of the record of our baseball team and hope to continue the good work during the season this year. Jayem lost some of its best players in June 1953. Missing from the line-up are Lewis Brandt, Russell Bowles, Cliff Taylor, Herman Clarke, Gibbons Mangum, Ernest Robinson, Billy Hurt, Charles Rosemond, Peter Williams, and Don Basemore.

Floyd Robertson and Harry Lee Goode have been chosen co-captains by the team for this year. Both of these boys are very capable ball players. Floyd plays outfield, while Harry plays the catching position.

The following games are scheduled for this season:

April 2	Thomas Jefferson
April 3	Hermitage
April 6	Hopewell
April 9	Highland Springs
April 12	University of Richmond
April 17	Highland Springs
April 20	Petersburg
April 27	Hopewell
April 30	Thomas Jefferson

TRACK

Have you seen our track team this year? Members are decked out in new blue and white sweat uniforms. This is the result of a surprising burst of participation in the sport.

Last year's handful of thinclads grew in number to thirty-eight, and much new apparel has been issued this year.

Track is the only self-reliant sport in Richmond's schools. A trackman is almost entirely on his own except for the helpful hints and training provided by the coach. In an attempt to adjust each boy to his best event, Coach Goodlow is again using the 5-Star Track Program that was used last year.

Although it is doubtful whether any records will be broken by this year's track team, the boys are all determined to do their best, and true sportsmanship is, after all, what really counts.

In the past, Jayem has produced such trackmen as Jack Gale, hurdles; Bill Butler, dashes; Bob Pate, high jump; Bob Parrish, dashes; Sterling Wingo, dashes; Lee Early, 880; Allen Barbee, dashes; and Joe Holland, shot put.

To produce a good, winning team, the coaches and boys must have the support of the student body. This year's team had the size and the spirit that deserves true Marshallite support.

To Our Cheerleaders

Our cheerleaders have done a marvelous job in promoting school spirit and in boosting the morale of the boys on the teams.

After partcicing every Tuesday night during the summer, the cheerleaders chose orientation of the new students for their first activity of the new semester.

Other activities of the cheerleaders were participating in the Tobaccorama Parade, entertaining at the G. A. A. Dance, and leading the seniors in cheers at the Community Chest Fund luncheon.

Each cheerleader received her hard-earned letter just before the Teejay-Jayem game. Most important of all was the trip to Arlington, where they cheered the Justices to three glorious victories and the State Basketball Championship.

HOCKEY

The Hockey Team, plagued with sickness and withdrawals, came through in spite of all this with 3 games won, 4 lost, and 1 tied.

Returning lettermen were Bobbie Frye, Jeanette Barnhill, Mickey Eagles, Mickey Gale, Juanita Western, and Jennette Talbot. They were joined by Joan Cecil, Bobbie Eagles, Betty Coleman, Janet Brooks, and Carol Bunn of last year's junior varsity team, and Betty Dickman, a newcomer.

Jeanette Barnhill was high scorer of the season, followed close behind by Bobbie Frye and Betty Coleman.

Jeanette Barnhill, Mickey Gale, Juanita Western, Jennette Talbot, and Betty Coleman of the varsity attended summer hockey camp at Mt. Pocono, Pennsylvania, where they were taught the fine elements of the game under able instructors.

The girls' basketball team had much rebuilding to do because it lost two of the best guards Jayem has ever had, Betty McGee and Mickey Eagles.

Returning lettermen were Bobbie Frye, Claudette Owen, co-captains; Sandy Strang, Jennette Talbot, and Barbara Harrington. Those up from the junior varsity were Audrey Lowry, Barbara Meade, Mickey Gale, and Jeanette Barnhill.

The varsity team won over Petersburg, Highland Springs, Midlothian, and Hopewell, while losing to Collegiate, Manchester, St. Gertrude's, St. Catherine's, and Thomas Jefferson.

Bobbie Frye was high scorer for the season, with an 18.5 average per game. She also won a berth of the All Prep School Team for the second straight year. Mickey Gale made All Prep Reserve Team.

The junior varsity had a very good season with 8 wins and 1 loss, which was to Thomas Jefferson.

FOLLOWING this page is the story of the four active years we have spent at John Marshall. It would seem that some of us have been more active than others, but most of us have excelled in some phase of our high school work.

Former students of John Marshall were probably just as busy as we have been over our four-year period. Today, however, there are many more organizations to which we may belong than there were in the earlier days at Jayem.

Out of classes such as the ones shown at the right have grown departmental clubs. These clubs not only provide an opportunity for social functions but also increase the members' knowledge of that particular subject, whether it be a language club or a business club.

Your pay starts from the first day at the telephone company — even while you're learning your new job!

That's one reason so many young girls choose a telephone job when they finish school. They don't need experience to get this good job — and they're paid while they learn a skill that'll always be useful.

Find out more about the variety of telephone jobs from your high school counselor — or come in and see us when you finish school.

YOUR CHOICE OF FUTURES

. . . WITH Thrift!

● Opportunities for success in today's world are unlimited, provided you'll plan it . . . with personal thrift. Having money for advanced training—or as a stake in your own business—is possible for you to achieve. From this day forward save a part of all you earn . . . and let those dollars, in turn, work for you.

As a Specialized Savings Association, we welcome savings accounts of all sizes. You'll find our liberal earnings help savings grow quickly, encouraging you to save more. Thrift is not the only way to success, but it's the surest way!

"Education for all the people is America's noblest contribution to civilization."

The Mark of A Champion . . .

WHEN a young man can face the business world with the same undaunted courage that he bucks the line in football, and can take the bumps that inevitably will come to him in business, and can keep his fighting spirit and keep smiling . . . then he has the mark of a champion. The world needs young men like this and the world will make way for them. The life insurance business needs such men, so why not prepare yourself for a career in the life insurance business. It's a business of opportunity for young men of ambition and vision.

Fulfilling An Obligation

With fidelity to the principles of the outstanding Virginians who founded Atlantic Life in 1900, it is the Company's continuing purpose:

To provide the security of life insurance at the lowest guaranteed cost.

To strive constantly to raise the standards of service and efficiency.

To provide career opportunities for those who are qualified for Home Office positions and professional sales work.

And to share through the efforts of the field organization in the progress of the communities in which we operate.
